

The invention relates to the medicine, in particular to the radiopharmacotherapeutic drugs. Radioprotective drug on the basis of 2-mercaptobenzothiasol is manufactured in the form of the tablets with optimal ratio of the active substance and other ingredients. The drug is practically nontoxic when used per os. The tablets are stable for five years preserving the initial properties and radioprotective activity.