

The invention relates to the medicine and describes the method for treating tuberculosis. The solution containing the beet juice, the juice of the black radish, 5% iodine solution in ethanol, and sodium chloride is taken per os. In addition, the iodine and sodium chloride solution is used for gargling the nasopharynx.