

The invention relates to medicine, in particular to pharmaceutical composition in the form of ointment comprising extract of oak bark and/or alder fruit, and/or bergenia leaves and roots with total content of polyphenol compounds not less than 12.5% and comprising coriander oil, glycerin, emulsifier, preserving agent, mixture of polyethylene oxides in specified ratio.