

The claimed apparatus comprises a roller section, made in the form placed in pairs between accomplice's stalks rollers with tapered tips, and are rotatable towards each other, as well as installed by bral cross conveyor sections, the guide track and the guide rods. Smooth shaft and screw shaft with a groove bral section configured to change position in a vertical plane. Couples rolls bral sections are made without clearance. Smooth shaft is rubberized. Profile roller screw groove is semicircular. Shaft with a screw groove is made longer than the smooth shaft and it acts as the input side stems bral section, and on the output side stems from the work rolls zone.