

The invention relates to the food industry, namely the canning, and can be used for individual ration or for the public catering in production of the vegetarian snacks.

The vegetarian snack contains the boiled beans, salt, spices (black or red sweet/bitter powdered pepper, coriander, turmeric, curry, and cumin), boiled chickpeas and lentils, herbs (dill, parsley, and cilantro) including the garlic, tomato paste, and the sunflower oil.

Such proportion allows to achieve the optimum organoleptic quality index of the snack and to receive the product with balanced ingredients.
