

A process for the preparation of ethylene glycol and other C₁-C₃ hydroxy compounds comprising the steps of hydrogenating a composition comprising C₁-C₃ oxygenate compounds. In particular the process is suitable for hydrogenating a composition comprising different C_i-C₄ oxygenate compounds, such as the product from a thermolytic fragmentation of a sugar composition.