

A method of modified flax fiber manufacturing includes treatment of short flax fiber No.2, No.3 prior to mechanical modification with solution of chemical preparation, and in the process of following modification it is subjected to emulsification. Wetting is carried out with composite chemical preparation with concentration of 0.5-0.7 g/l.