

A footwear comprises an upper and a sole, the upper has legs made from textile material with waterproofing impregnation. The upper in the front part is additionally equipped with a flap and the textile material contains flax fibers in amount of 30-55 %.