

A rotary disk apparatus contains a cylindrical housing with two covers equipped with inlet and outlet pipes, at least, one rotor with mobile perforated disks, and also fixed perforated disks located in the turn with them and fastened between the covers with the aid of spacing collars. Each of the fixed perforated disks is made of, at least, two similar parts.