

A nutrient medium for cultivation of the strain causative agent of swine erysipelas Erysipelothrix rhusiopathie, which contains fermentative peptone, potassium phosphate, sodium phosphate, and also hydrolyzate of marine feedstock. The mixture of fish autolyzate and alkaline mussel hydrolyzate is used as a source of nitrogenous nutrition.