

A method for designing the trophical net of the pastoral ecosystem relates to ecology and can be used in pastoral monitoring for assessing the steadiness of the pastoral ecosystem.