

Device for formation of main frame includes block for control and formation, power supply block, first, second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh connectors for connection of local switches and sources of electric power supply. The device additionally includes block of amplification and switching.