

A complex reagent for clarification of sugar-containing products consists of solution of aluminum basic salt. According to the utility model, the basic aluminum sulphate and polyhexamethyleneguanidine hydrochloride are used.