

An X-ray contrasting granule for examining the gastrointestinal passage comprises 0.2 g of barium sulfate and 0.1-0.2 g of medicinal paraffin mixed uniformly at a ratio of 1:1 or 2:1 at the temperature of 55-60 °C. The granule is shaped as a ball 5-7 mm in diameter. The weight of the granule amounts to 0.3-0.4 g.