

A method for correcting the cerebral reactivity in the patients with arterial hypertension and concomitant cerebral ischemia provides for the use of the drugs. In the setting of the conventional basic therapy, Carvedilol is administered at a daily dose of 25-50 mg for 180 days. Thiotriazolin is used at a dose of 100 mg thrice a day for a month. The duration of the treatment is 6 months.