

An immittance logic LC-element “AND-NOT” relates to computing engineering, in particular to element base and can be used in computing devices with radio-pulse method of information presentation.