

The device for tracking of switching resource comprises current sensor, a switching start sensor as well as a resource counter, an analog-digital conversion unit where measured current value is supplied to a store unit, a weight coefficient unit, a switching time evaluator and a synchronization unit.