

A flower support comprises a leg with brackets, which is fixed on the base. Flower baskets are fixed to said brackets. The brackets are provided with two holders arranged one above the other. The upper holder, which is shaped as a hook, embraces the leg from the side opposite to the bracket, and the lower holder is of a horseshoe-like shape and abuts in the leg on the side of the bracket.