

An impact-protective helmet, being a double-layer shell with a visor, comprises an outer layer of aramid fabric, binding, and an inner soundproof layer of aramid non-woven fabric, strengthening strip and lobes and additional layer of transparent polymer material.