

A liquid self-alignment support comprises a body having a support and post, and a support mechanism comprising cylindrical vessel with liquid and floating element placed on the surface thereof. The vessel walls are non-wettable. The floating element is cylindrical and wettable one, and can move and self-center. The floating element diameter corresponds to inner diameter of the vessel.