

A cageless ball bearing includes outer and inner rings with race tracks and balls placed in the respective race tracks. The balls, inner and outer rings have reborings. The reborings of the inner and outer rings are made in width and include pins. The reborings of balls are made in long direction with possibility of engagement with the pins.