

A method for the production of mixed yarn includes mixing of flax fibers with cotton, with following formation of a strip of the mix of flax and cotton fibres, with formation of roving and formation of yarn. Oil-bearing flax fibers are used as flax fibers.