

A vertical heat exchange apparatus includes a case made as removable of flexible material, two covers, fittings of pipe and inter-pipe spaces, and two tube plates with heat exchange tubes fixed there. The branch pipe of the fitting comprises two parts connected to each other by means of an insert made of flexible material.