

Sandals consist of sole with straps. On the inner surface of the sole there are several grooves along the entire surface.