

Equipment for the formation of ground blocks includes frame, tank material, the shape of the sections and bottoms, seal and driven nozzle. Also, the frame is designed as a uniaxial chassis form additionally equipped with a desk, her ear sections set that is pivotally connected to the desktop and pass through openings in moving vertically bottoms, with respect to the frame shape is installed with the possibility of reciprocating movement, and bin with a controlled valve and seal attached to the frame.