

An aircraft transport system includes a carrier aircraft, on whose "back" carried aircraft of aeroplane/ecranoplan type is placed and attached to its fuselage by special connecting elements. The coupling element between the carrier aircraft and carried aircraft is a platform for placing and fixing thereof on it.